Alt3 Mesh Task

Features

The Alt3 Mesh Task Chair approaches both lumbar support and design from a slightly different perspective. It maintains constant contact with the thoracic and lumbar regions of the spine in a reclined position, but relies upon a different technology to do so. The mesh material itself provides flexibility, while the reinforced frame supplies the rigidity required for real support. The exaggerated curves of the frame guide the mesh into complex three-dimensional shapes that follow the contours of the upper and lower back.

Features

With its emphasis on ease-of-use in short-term seating conditions, the Alt3 Conference Chair also approaches support and design from a unique position. Like the Mesh Task Chair, its back relies on the frame’s curves and resulting “mesh pocket” to provide constant contact and lumbar support. The Conference Chair eliminates the seat depth adjustment, retains a fixed seat–back angle, and features an auto-height/auto-return pneumatic cylinder. This cylinder returns the chair to its original forward facing and highest seat positions when the user stands, which provides a tidy look for the space and uniform seating experience for its subsequent occupants.
